Mysteries of Personal Magnetism Laid Bare-Does Danger Lurk in Hypnotism?—Can These Sciences Be Taught by Mail?

Opinions of 81 Prominent Business Men and Scientists Who Have Taken a Course of Instructions-Some Astonishing Revelations.

EVERYBODY MAY NOW LEARN | Employer Outwits Dog After Being

Owing to the widespread interest which has intely been manifested in schools of Personal Magnetism, Hypnotism, Magnetic Healing, etc., a reporter was assigned to investigate the New York Institute of Science of Rochester, N. Y., the largest school of this kind in the world, and to ascertain what practical benefits, if any, the students receive.

This Institute made a remarkable showing. That it actually teaches Scientific Hypnotism, Personal Magnetism, Magnetic Healing, etc., there can be no doubt. In a few days' study at home any intelligent person can, through its course, acquire the secret powers of the occult sciences and use them on his friends and associates entirely without their knowledge. Its course of instruction, prepared under the supervision of the noted hypnotist, X. La Motte Sage, A. M., Ph. D., LL. D., was found to be exactly as represented-easy to learn and marvelously clear and complete. Over 50,000 students were enrolled last year.

From the letter files of the institute one hundred names were taken at random. Letters were addressed to these persons, asking them to tell freely what they thought of the Institute and the benefits they had derived from the instruction. The replies received were a revolation. All had achieved success to a greater or less degree, and in many instances the results were simply astounding, almost beyond belief.

Extracts from the replies of six of the students are given herein without comment: Mr. Frank Muchl, Fairwater, Wis., writes: "I have thoroughly tested the practical value of Personal Magnetism and Hypnotism as expounded by the New York Institute of Science, and I am agreeably surprised at the results. This information is invaluabie. I see life anew. Wonderful possibilities have been opened up to me."

M. B. Furry, No. 417 East 2d St., Wilmington, Del., writes: "I hypnotized a young man within three hours after receiving my first instruction. He could neither sing nor dance. I made him sing three coon songs and dance a regular buck dance-he thinking he was a stage performer."

Dr. Abbie Heath, 71 Dover St., Boston, Mass., writes: "By the information received from the New York Institute of Science I cured a Mr. Scott of the tobacco habit in two treatments. It is now six months since, and he cannot touch tobacco. I have used Hypnotism several times to control the excruciating pain of cancer and to eradicate pernicious habits in children."

Professor J. Ernest Trudel, Hedleyville, Quebec, Canada, writes: "Dr. Sage's wonderful course in Personal Magnetism and Hypnotism is the only work of its kind containing information that any person can readily learn and apply. It certainly reveals the secrets of personal influence; it develops in one a power, a force of character that I

The New York Institute of Science has just issued one of the most remarkable books of the century, which treats in an intensely interesting manner of personal magnetism, hypnotism, magnetic healing, etc. During the next 30 days 10,000 copies of this book are to be given away. This great work contains the reported opinions of eighty-one persons who have tested these sciences. Among the number are fourteen College Presidents and Professors, eight Doctors, three Dentists, four Judges and Lawyers, four Society Leaders, twenty-eight Business Men, City Officials, Bank Presidents, besides twenty persons prominent in other walks of life. Altogether, we consider it to be the most valuable and wonderful work of the kind ever produced. This book has been the means of starting thousands of persons on the road to success. It may prove the turning point in your career. A copy of the book will be sent absolutely free to any one addressing the New York Institute of Science, Department 222 L, Observations of a St. Louis Boy Who Is Soldiering in the Philippines.

Henry Taylor, a St. Louis boy, who is serving with the Twelfth United States Infantry in the Philippine Islands, writes the following letter to his brother, L. V. Taylor of No. 4215 Maryland avenue, under date of

"My Dear Brother: I thought I would have a chance to drop you a line for several weeks, but no opportunity has presented itself. An escort is prepared to start for civilization as soon as the roads are passable, so will prepare a letter to send by that means. "It is simply —, and the people who think this insurrection is over are woefully mistaken. The Filipinos have taken a new brace, and as far ahead as we, who are on the ground, can see, there is nothing in sight but fighting. Since McKinley's election all one hears from the "niggers" is "mucho combata." Bryan was considered "weno-no mas combata, no boom boomtotus Americano mucho amigo," etc. Our headquarters is still located at Tariac. We are entirely too weak here. Along our lines alone we could use easily 20,000 more men than we have. The enemy have quarters in the mountains, which are almost impressable, and only the heaviest ordinance has the least effect upon them. There is a constant howl for more troops, but we don't seem to get them. All the old-time soldiers who can possibly do so are going home. There is not a bit of ink in camp, and only one fountain pen, which we save to direct letters with. There is no telling when, if ever, this letter will reach you."

POLICE RECOVER JEWELRY.

Frank Crosby and Oscar Donaldson Suspected of Stealing It.

Frank Crosby, alias Donovan, and Oscar Donaldson are prisoners at the Four Courts on suspicion of having stolen nearly 11,006 worth of jeweiry, which was recovered by the police at several of the downtown pawnshops in the last few days. In several instances Crosby and Donaldson have been identified as the persons who pawned the jeweiry.

identified as the persons who pawned the jewelry.

Through the descriptive lists of stolen property, Assistant Chief of Detectives Smith has identified the larger portion of the jewelry as that which was stolen a few nights ago from a store at Smithboro, Ill. Donaldson acknowledges that they were in Smithborough about the time the jewelry was stolen, but he declares he did not steal it.

was stolen, but he declares he did not steal it.
Crosby is an ex-convict, having served time in the Leavenworth (Kas.) Penitentiary. Donaidson is only 17 years old. Sergeant Colestock and Policeman Cremins arrested the men in a saloon at Seventh and Market streets early yesterday morning.

The property recovered consists of forty-two table knives, eighteen pocket knives, five ladies' gold watch chains, one man's gold watch chain, one lady's gold bracelet, sixteen gold watch charms, eight gold stick pins, eleven gold finger rings and a double-barrel shotgun.

Donaidson said that he and Crosby started from St. Louis ten days ago on a tour. They got off the train at Smithboro, be said, and while he waited at the station Crosby went uptown. He said that Crosby returned with a shotgun and a lot of jew-lery. They then came to St. Louis, he said, to sell the property.

Crosby's story does not tally with Donaldson's. He said that they were on their way westward from Indianapolis, Ind. When asked how they came in possession of all the jeweiry, he replied, "That's a matter for the police to find out."

BULLDOG PREVENTS RESCUE FROM FIRE.

But while Mrs. McGovern battled with the dog, the blaze had securely fastened on Miss Glansmann, who was lying face downward on the floor, and before she could be reached here clothing was all affame, and the burns proved fatal.

Miss Glansmann was employed in the Louisiana laundry, at No. 209 South Second street. She slept in a rear room on the first floor. The dog remained always in her room, as a protection against intruders. It is supposed that the fire started from the explosion of a iamp. Saturday morning, at 5 o'clock, Mrs. McGovern, who owns the laundry, and who occupies apartments on the second floor, was roused by screams from the room below. She hastily rose and, slipping on a skirt ran downstatts. The door to Miss Glansmann's room was locked. Mrs. McGovern forced it open. Through the thick clouds of smoke she saw Miss Glansmann lying on the threshold of the door between her room and the laundry office. She advanced toward the girl, but the buildog facercely attacked her. The dog's teeth gank in her right arm. Several times the dog made victous lunges, but Mrs. McGovern had attended to the consult poctor Milen they will not meet some substitute doctor missing currently from the right arm. By this time a number of neighbors had arrived, and several of them rushed into the room to assist in the work of rescue. Jacob Harris quickly tore the burning clothes from the girl. In doing this his right hand was badly burned. The unconscious girl was carried outside, wrapped in blankets and sent to the City Hospital, where she died at 1:20 o'clock.

Mrs. McGovern believes that Miss Giansmann, after rising at 5 o'clock, started to the laundry office with a lighted lamp in her hand. It is supposed that she stumbled on a strip of carpet at the door and fell, the lamp exploding and dashing the burning oil over her.

STRICTURE CUREO—NO CUTTING OF DILATING.

The great prevalence of Urethral Stricture and its disastrous results makes it a disease demanding most skillful treatment. No ailment of mankind has been subjected to more flagrant maltreatment. It is surprising that in this enlightened are doctors continue the barbarous, pilnful ast useless method of cutting to remove stricture. Stricture is a granular and not a macular formation, and, as such, must be dissolved and digested by chemical action. Cutting, dilating and other barbarous methods are only practiced by the ignorant and unskilled. Doctor Millen's treatment for stricture is a painless one.

It is not known or used by any other physician in this country, being purely his own discovery. The treatment is easily atoministered and it quickly and permanently dissolves the stricture, removing it root and branch, and in so doing all reflex and associate troubles also disappear.

BRIDGE SUICIDE.

Relatives of George A. Green Believe That He Is the Man Who Made Fatal Leap.

HE IS AMONG THE MISSING.

Wrote to Mother at Clifton City, Mo., Threatening Suicide-He Disappeared From City Hospital.

Morgue Superintendent Cowie believes he has learned the identity of the young man who leaped to his death from the center span of Eads bridge Wednesday norning. He thinks that the suicide was George Andrew Green of Clifton City, Mo. This opinion is not shared by Superintendent Cowle alone, but by the relatives of Green, who is mysteriously missing. Several persons have called at the morgue in the belief that the suicide was a relative of theirs, but none have been able to set their suspicions at rest, because the body has not yet been recovered. Green's description seems to come nearer fitting that of the bridge jumper than any other which has been given at the morgue.

Green, according to his cousin, Eugene
Wood, who called at the morgue yesterday, was 22 years old, about 5 feet 5 inches was 22 years old, about 5 feet 3 inches tall, smooth-shaven, a good dresser, polite, and a stranger in the city. It will be remembered that Conductor Condon, who spoke to the suicide a moment before he jumped into the river, said the young fellow was evidently a stranger in the city, as he did not know that the fare over the bridge was 10 cents.

Green was taken to St. Louis on December 17, 1900, and placed in the City Hospital for treatment. Nearly a year ago he developed signs of insanity, so Wood said, and grew worse. Last December his famdeveloped signs of insanity, so Wood said, and grew worse. Last December his family thought it necessary to place him under restraint and treatment. On one occasion, when he had an engagement to meet his sweetheart about November 1, it is said he was selzed with a violent mania, and pounded himself with his fists. At this time he was chewing about 30 cents worth of tobacco a day. Green lived with his from her at the outskirts of Clifton City, a small town near Sedalla, Mo.

On Wednesday morning, Wood said, Green left the City Hospital, and no trace has been found of him since. The following day his mother received a letter from him. estating that when she read it he would be at the bottom of the Mississippi River.

Wood came to St. Louis immediately in search of his coustn. When he saw the account of the bridge suicide in the papers and read the description he concluded that it was Green who had taken the fatal plunge.

Report of London Bank Clearings, Received Here, Proves It.

Received Here, Proves It.

Manager T. A. Stoddard of the St. Louis clearing-house yesterday received from "J. Herbert Tritton, honorable secretary of the banker's clearing-house of London. England." a report showing the clearings of the London banks for a period of ten years. This report, when compared with the reports of the St. Louis and New York clearing-houses, presents some remarkable facts and proves conclusively that London is no longer the financial center of the world, but has been compelled to take a back seat in favor of New York.

Clearings of the London banks in 1900 were $7.533,351,855 less than those of the New York banks last year, and showed a decrease from those of the previous year of $350,-455,000. New York bank clearings, were $1.121,200,005 less than those of 1859.

St. Louis on the other hand showed an increase of more than $50,000,000, and is one of the few large cities of the world which did not show a falling off.

According to the London Report, bank clearings in London in 1850 were $5.50,170,000, or about $44,50,850,000, as compared with $50,150,250,000, or $45,751,345,000, in 1899.

The bank clearings in 1800 were the largest on record in both New York and London.
